

The Franciscan College of New Jersey

Business Faculty, Division of Business and Management Sciences

Felician College, a rapidly growing, liberal arts Catholic College serving over 2,000 undergraduate and graduate students at its Lodi and Rutherford campuses in Northern New Jersey, invites applications for Full-time Faculty in Management and Marketing in the Division of Business and Management Sciences. The Division of Business and Management Sciences showcases an entrepreneurial spirit in a dynamic environment and offers undergraduate degrees in Marketing, Management, Business Administration, Health Care Administration, and Accounting. The Division also offers a Masters of Business Administration in Innovation and Entrepreneurship and a Master's of Science in Health Care Administration. The business programs are accredited by the International Assembly for Collegiate Business Education (IACBE). Joining a faculty of ten, and working with a supportive administrative leadership team, the new faculty members will play a significant role in the Division's growth. Felician College promotes a values-centered teaching environment and the new faculty will participate in new and innovative methods in delivering business education.

Founded and sponsored by the Felician Sisters, Felician College has maintained its historic Catholic/Franciscan tradition since 1923, while establishing a broad-based liberal arts curriculum and a diverse academic community. Felician offers programs of study in the Arts and Sciences, Business and Management, Health Sciences, Nursing, and Teacher Education. Courses are offered on campus, in a number of off-site corporate and educational settings, as well as online, in the evenings, as well as in accelerated formats to serve a large nontraditional student population. Felician's close proximity to New York City, provides excellent partnership opportunities to enhance student learning. For more information about Felician College, please explore www.felician.edu.

Qualifications: The successful candidates must have a Ph.D. or D.B.A. degree from a regionally accredited institution, and will possess strong academic experiences in their field, along with a concentration in Management or Marketing. These professors will work collaboratively within the Felician community to provide instruction, program review and development, and scholarly leadership in his/her disciplinary area. Responsibilities include maintaining a teaching assignment for classes, completing Felician's certification program in online teaching pedagogy, and demonstrating an interest in entrepreneurial methods of delivering education. Teaching experience at the graduate and undergraduate level will be helpful in this position, and an understanding of the mission of Felician College is essential. The anticipated start date for these positions is January 2012.

Application: Interested candidates should submit a cover letter, Curriculum Vitae, and copies of transcripts to RPA Inc. at felicianprof@rpainc.org indicating which faculty position you are applying for in the subject line.
